

Scam of the Week[™]

July 18, 2014, Austin, TX

World Tour continues with informal hearing to protest an 88% increase in property tax value of my land. The informal hearing will be held at Travis Central Appraisal District which is the Last Free Exit off 290 just east of 183 where the new tollway begins, heading east to Elgin where there is much sausage.

Polyticks - Steve Adler, leading candidate for next mayor of Austin, say “Education is the key to Austin’s success” which is laudable except for the inconvenient fact that the City of Austin has nothing to do with education, zero, zip, nada. Is Steve Adler just ignorant which is bad, or does he want the City of Austin to be involved in education too which is worse and duplicative of AISD = more government = more taxes?

Word to Steve Adler. Providing public services is the key to Austin's success. Public services such as water, police, fire, streets and other services that cannot be operated at a profit such as education.
